

You are cordially invited to a seminar sponsored by the International Grain Trade Coalition:

The grain trade's contribution to global food security and economic development

November 10, 2016, 13:00-15:00

WTO, Room S2

Light lunch served

The International Grain Trade Coalition (IGTC), an organization that brings together more than 8000 for-profit Corporate Stakeholders in over 85 countries, will have the pleasure to lead a panel discussion on global policies currently affecting the international grain trade.

Expert presentations will provide:

- Insights into current developments in policy and trade practice.
- Perspectives from three diverse speakers representing the international trade of grains, oilseeds and other agri-bulks.
- Opportunities for WTO delegates to engage in active debate with grain trade representatives.
- Responses to relevant WTO processes: DG Roberto Azevêdo's preparations for 11th WTO Ministerial Conference in 2017; implementation of the Trade Facilitation Agreement.

Opening Remarks: Garth Ehrhardt, Government of Canada

Moderator: Counsellor Emerson Coraiola Kloss, Government of Brazil

Please join us for light snacks before the event outside the room at 13:00.
